

Nehru Honored At Reception, Talks To Local Indian Students

by Thomas G. Hagan, '51
An impressive motorcade of Chrysler limousines, complete with screaming motorcycle escort, heralded India's Pandit Nehru when he visited Technology last Friday. The procession pulled up at the President's house at 4:30 p.m., where a crowd of about two hundred students were awaiting the Indian leader. President James R. Killian came out to greet the official party, and the assemblage moved inside to a reception and tea given in honor of Prime Minister Nehru.

herself as a result, without however, weakening the strength of her foundations." He went on to explain the decline of India as a world power. "But then, with time, her mind was closed and a shell was formed. India retreated from her influential position because more emphasis was placed on petty things." He urged India's students to "reopen the window." "The younger generation," he said, "must renew the receptive frame of mind, and work hard to make India once again a Prime Minister Pandit Nehru and his sister, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, Indian Ambassador to the United States, are greeted by Dr. Killian at the reception in the President's house.

Mr. Nehru, surprisingly affable and pleasantly good humored for a man who has succeeded Gandhi as spiritual leader to the millions of Hindus, gave an impromptu talk to the Indian students present. "I am glad to see so many of you studying engineering," he said, "India has too many lawyers and too few engineers." He went on in English for several minutes, and then suddenly asked, in Hindustani, "How many of you know this language?" The eighty or ninety Indian students present laughed at the question and responded by raising their hands.

He continued his talk in Hindustani, so we asked a friend to interpret for us. He spoke of India's early history as a center of widespread cultural influence, when she was receptive to external influences and the windows of her mind were open to zephyrs from various directions. She enriched first-class nation." He ended his talk with the words "Jai Hind," translatable as "Victory to India." Indian students from throughout Boston were present at the reception. Invitations had been extended to all members of the Hindustan Student's Association of Greater Boston. The women present were dressed in colorful Indian saris, and this, added to the multilingual conversation in the room, lent an intriguing atmosphere to the affair.

Also present was Nehru's sister, Her Excellency, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, Indian Ambassador to the United States, and a strikingly charming woman. Pandit here is a surname; more often it signifies rank, as with her brother. Institute officials at the gathering besides Dr. Killian were Dr. Julius A. Stratton, Provost, Dean Everett M. Baker and Professor Paul Chalmers.

Frosh, Sophs To Battle Saturday In 49th Field Day; '53 Dares '52 To Break Up Friday's Rally

Tech Oarsmen Win On Charles

Beat Harvard And
Union Boat Club
In Informal Regatta

The Tech crew raced to victory in a three quarter mile race on the Charles last Saturday noon with Harvard and the Union Boat Club, composed mainly of Harvard alumni.

The race was strictly unofficial but it suggests prospects of a successful season for the Engineers next spring. The Tech and Harvard crews were made up of the men who look good now and are necessarily to be considered as the varsity crews.

The race was very fast and there is no doubt that the speed at which it was run could not have been kept up for any more than the three quarter mile distance. The rowers were all pretty well done in when they finished.

It was a nip and tuck battle all the way between Tech and the Union Boaters with the Beavers pulling into the lead in the last quarter mile to cross the finish line a quarter of a length in front of the Boat Club crew. Harvard was a length further back.

The Engineers were timed in 3:49.6 for the distance.

TECH'S-A-POPPIN

The Techsappopin Steering Committee has just announced that chaperons, administration judges, assistants to the Steering Committee, members of the band, cheerleaders and ushers, will receive complimentary tickets to Techsappopin. However, members of competing teams or of the Hexapoppin skit shows will not receive any complimentary tickets.

Summer Project Will Sponsor Sixty Foreign Students

Students from thirty-three foreign countries on all continents of the Eastern Hemisphere will be invited to the Institute in the summer of 1950, officials of the Foreign Students Summer Projects have announced.

"Probably not all thirty-three countries can send students," said Harrison C. White, Chairman of the FSSP, "since the Iron Curtain countries may not be allowed to participate in our program this year as they have in the past."

Ambassadors Approached

In 1948 Poland and Czechoslovakia were represented, and in 1949, Yugoslavia. Ambassadors from these countries have been approached on the subject this year also, but the decision on whether or not the students can come is not yet definite. Nevertheless, invitations have been extended to all of the Iron Curtain countries without exception, and it is expected that one or two will be represented next summer.

Students are admitted on the summer project plan only after meeting several basic requirements. It is extremely necessary that the student speak English, that the study he wishes to engage in at the Institute is not obtainable in his own country, and that he has completed four years of college work. All applications are screened by a committee in the country in which the applicant lives.

Sixty Students Expected

This year the number of applications received by the FSSP is expected to be approximately four hundred, but only sixty students will be chosen to study here. This small number plus a closer liaison with the faculty will enable each participant in the project to gain excellent laboratory experience and valuable help in his education that would not be available to him otherwise.

Over 1000 Expected To See Athletic Events; Tennis Match Dropped

With a crowd predicted to exceed 1,000 people, and student feeling running high, Saturday afternoon, October 29, sees the beginning of Technology's 49th Field Day. This year several innovations have been made, including the omission of the tennis match and the deletion of the two-minute warning signal before the close of the glove fight. Under the chairmanship of Fred Lehmann, '51, members of the committees have been completing the various tasks necessary to the successful staging of the contest. The gloves have been dyed and are now hung up to dry in an undisclosed portion of Briggs Field House.

180 Officials Mustered

Meanwhile a corps of ninety marshals and an equal number of ushers have received final instructions prior to assuming the responsibility of conducting the affair.

As an added feature, Chairman Lehmann has prevailed upon Major Harris and his R.O.T.C. band to play during the early part of the afternoon.

Final Rally Friday

Scheduled for this week is a final freshman rally, the last of three, to be held in 10-250 Friday afternoon, at 5 p.m. Frosh officers Frank Mayer and Pete Stark have lined up a program which includes speeches by the various coaches,

Dard Hunter Gets Honorary Degree

Lehigh Letters Award
Goes To Paper Expert

Dr. Dard Hunter, curator of the Dard Hunter Paper Museum here at the Institute, has been awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters by Lehigh University.

Dr. Hunter has gathered together the most complete collection of material on papermaking in the world today. Housed on the third floor of Building Seven, the Dard Hunter Paper Museum contains, among other things, handmade paper from early China, the complete equipment of an old English handmade-paper mill, and a vat agitator and bamboo mold from Japan.

Dr. Hunter first became interested in papermaking in 1912, while working as a printing designer. He became intrigued with old papermaking, early water-marking, and typefounding, and he became determined to make books by himself from the paper and ink to the actual printing. This became possible when, in 1913, he built a hand paper mill and a small foundry in Marlborough, New York. He acquired a press and in 1915 and 1917 issued two books on the subject of etching.

Since that time Dr. Hunter has completely published most of the books which he has written. He made the paper, ink, and did the printing of such books as Papermaking in Southern Siam and Old Papermaking in China and Japan.

Financier Lowell Joins Corporation

The election of Mr. Ralph Lowell, President and Chairman of the Board of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, to term membership for five years on the corporation of the Institute was announced by President Killian last Thursday.

A graduate of Harvard University in 1912, Mr. Lowell has long been associated with the financial life of Boston. He is sole trustee of the Lowell Institute, of which the Lowell Institute school conducted under the auspices of Technology is one of many of its educational activities. He is also a trustee and director of many educational, philanthropic, and charitable institutions and organizations, including the Perkins Institute for the Blind, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the McLean Hospital, Vincent Hospital, and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

35% Reduction Of Prices On Overseas Air Trips

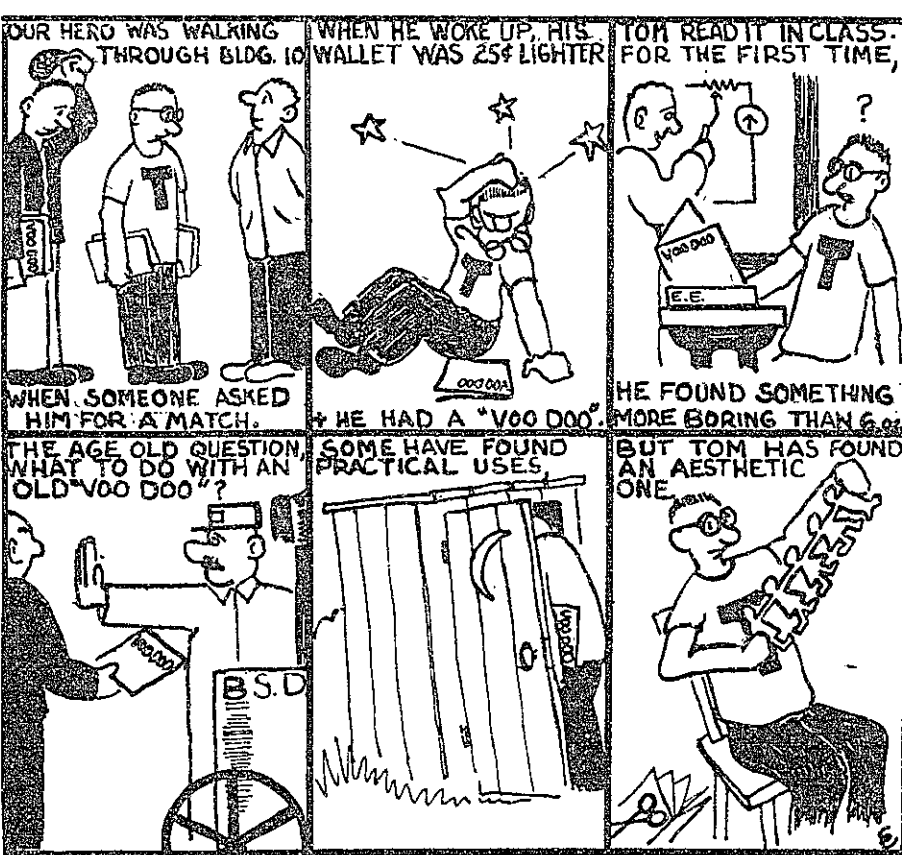

College or preparatory school students who live in European countries served by American Overseas Airlines may now take advantage of a special 35 per cent round-trip fare reduction to fly to their homes overseas for the Christmas vacation or other holidays. W. N. Bump, Regional Vice President for the airline in Boston, has announced.

Further information regarding this special students' reduction may be obtained from the American Airlines office at 80 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

Tug O'War Rallies Try To Organize Both Teams

Final Tug O'War rallies for both the Frosh and Soph teams are scheduled for Friday afternoon, October 28. Both teams need more men. If either side fails to muster at least 25 men, it would, under Field Day rules, forfeit the Tug O'War on Wednesday afternoon.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

As a student who has worked on the advertising staff of The Tech I believe I know the problems that face the present staff in getting out a paper. These problems are difficult but by no means insurmountable. The staff turns out a good paper considering the present circumstances under which it operates. The policy makers of The Tech can greatly improve the quality of this student publication—which by their own admission is "not a nickel's worth of newspaper"—if they devote their energy to actions more constructive than making belittling remarks about a student publication which is a quarter's worth of magazine.

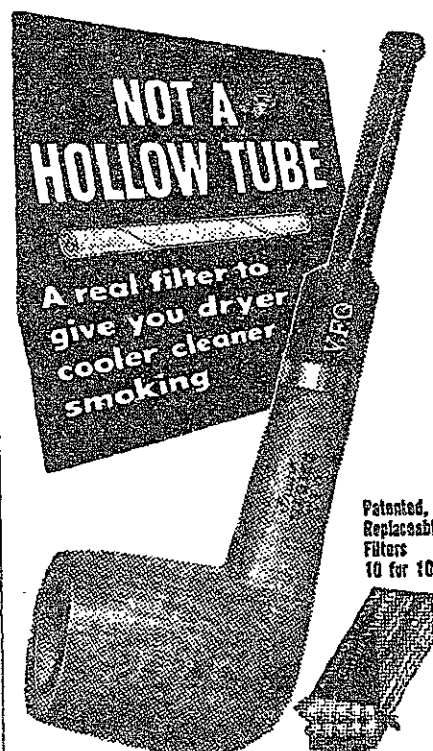

The editor's reference to the slightly lower level of sex in connection with the VOO DOO smoker is in bad taste when included in an apology to Professor Magoun whose inspirational lectures at M.I.T. have been a source of wisdom and joy to all who have heard them.

George Bromfield

Freshman-Sophomore rivalry dictates that the Sophomores drive their new pledges about fifty miles from town and leave them there. This week at the Pegis club the tables were turned. Some of the new fellows grabbed an upperclassman, drove him to a spot thirty-five miles from town and left him there. Unfortunately some stalwart citizen spotted him and phoned police stating, "There was an escaped convict outside my home." The fellow had recently gotten a crew cut and his battered clothes added to the effect. The police gave him the once-over, phoned his fraternity house then let him go.

There was a small fire last week at the Esplanade Cafe. Six fire trucks, one hook-and-ladder, the fire chief's car and a paddy wagon responded. Evidently Boston officials are well acquainted with the fact that the "Spoon" is a favorite hang-out for Tech men.

Fraternity Findings

By JIM STOLLEY and DAVE BOSSEN

Last Saturday night's social program would rival New York in the debutante season. Although no one officially "came out," the evening was highlighted by many very fine parties. For those with a freshly pressed tux and a yen to wear it, the Phi Sigma Kappa's held their Moonlight Formal at the Somerset Hotel. Brad Kent and his orchestra lulled the guests into the "moon mood," and a group from the Tech show sang some numbers from the past and coming Tech shows. Climaxing the dance was the crowning of the "Moon Girl." Anne Warren, escorted by Jim Reese, was chosen to reign over the festivities.

Square Dancing at Fall Brawl

The ATO's welcomed fall with their annual brawl at the Cambridge boat house. While the Techonians had an intermission, Bill Bakemeyer organized square dancing. The couples had so much fun do-ce-do-ing, they didn't want to return to the modern cheek-to-cheek method when the Techonians resumed playing.

Crawling through a spider webbed entrance, the SAM's and their guests faced a weird scene. The theme of the party was Surrealism and the costumes certainly supported the theme. Eddy Arthurs, dressed as a beautiful woman, provoked more than his share of whistles. SAM pledges entertained the group with a surrealist skit.

Alpha Club Bulges at Seams

Over five hundred people squeezed into the Alpha Club to celebrate the "Revenooer's Raid." With the entrance decorated to resemble an outhouse, a makeshift still, and a revenue agent hanging from a flat pole, the scene was reminiscent of the Ozarks.

Frosh Gridders Beat Wentworth, 12-6; All Scoring in Second Half

After a slow start, the freshman football team came through in the second half to defeat Wentworth Institute's frosh by a 12-6 score last Thursday afternoon. The victory gave the frosh a 1-1 record for their practice games to match the mark of the sophomores.

The first half of the game was fairly even until the end of the second quarter when the Engineers began to dent the Wentworth line regularly with end runs. However, the Beaver drive was stalled by the clock as the half ended with Tech in possession on the opponents' 1-yard line.

In the third quarter the Engineers scored twice to sew up the game. Quarterback Charlie Teeple tallied the first touchdown on a quarterback sneak to climax a 60-yard drive. Another sustained drive resulted in a score as fullback Winkfield went over on a delayed off tackle run. Wentworth scored in the last period after recovering a Tech fumble.

Teeple again ran his team smartly, from the quarterback slot, while Merrill Ebner turned in some outstanding defensive work on the line.

Harriers Top U. Of Mass. 26-31, For Second Win

Tech Sailors Sunk; Jack Wood Trophy Now Coast Guard's

A fighting crew of Coast Guard sailors upset a favored, leading Tech team to win the Jack Wood Trophy Sunday on their home waters. Although the Engineers placed first and second in the last race, the gap was too big, and the Coast Guard team won 156-153. Following Tech were Brown, Dartmouth, and Harvard.

Top man in class A was Roberts of Brown, with 49 points. In Class B, Beaver Ray (?) Brown also received 49 points, tying with Roberts for the regatta's high point man. Tech's Bob Nickerson and Howie Fawcett ran first in two races, and Brown broke the tape in one.

Next Sunday the Engineers travel to Brown for a Major-Minor Octagonal Regatta.

Frosh Also Victorious As Grenier Takes 1st

Tech's undefeated varsity and freshman cross country teams both continued their winning ways at Amherst, Massachusetts, last Saturday, as they swept their meets with the University of Massachusetts. For the second straight week the varsity won despite losing the first two places as their balance paid off for a 26-31 score.

Clough of Massachusetts, who led all the way, finished first in 20:08, followed by teammate Cossar. However, Techmen Carol Belton, Bill Nicholson, Sam Holland and Gordon Hunt finished within 18 seconds of each other to take the next four places. Belton's time was 20:42. The meet was run between the halves of the Massachusetts-Rochester football game.

The Freshman team won more easily as the 23-32 score shows. George Grenier of the Beavers repeated last week's win, finishing the 2½ mile course in 15:25.08. Like the varsity, the yearlings actually won on balance as Swanson, Tie-mann, O'Donnell and Towne ran 4, 5, 6, and 7. Grenier is newly-elected captain of the Frosh team as well as its leading runner.

Next Saturday the teams will try to maintain their perfect record against a good New Hampshire Squad at Franklin Park.

Sophs Bow, 13-12 To Tabor Academy

Extra Point Decisive; Newcomer Scores 2

A point after touchdown proved to be the winning margin as the Class of '52's football team bowed to a Tabor Academy eleven last Saturday afternoon. With the Soph's T-formation pitted against the Academy's strong single-wing, the game see-sawed back and forth, until Tabor eked out a 13-12 victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Engineers rallied early in the second period as a 70-yd. drive was capped with a 5-yard touchdown plunge by Bo Newcomer. The kick for conversion was wide.

Tabor soon tied the score as a twenty-yard pass, on the heels of a successful forty-yard pitch, put them across the goal line. But their attempt for an extra point failed, and the half ended in a 6-6 dead-lock.

Late in the third quarter the Sophs, marching from 60 yards down the field, once again took the lead as Newcomer punched over the goal-line. However Tabor quickly retaliated with a 50-yd. trek for a score, and then passed successfully for the extra point which meant the game.

Favorites Triumph In Grid Tourney

The favorites came through as expected in last weekend's intramural football, with Theta Chi, Grad House A. and S.A.E. all posting wins.

League I saw Theta Chi remain undefeated tournament champs, as they outscored Sigma Nu 13-6. Also in League I, Chi Phi ran up the weekend's highest score, mauling hapless Walker 19-0.

In League II, unbeaten Phi Delta Theta smashed Sigma Chi 13-0, while Grad House B was losing to the Pegis Club by a similar score. Barracks B forfeited to Kappa Sigma.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon had to go into overtime to keep its unbeaten status and subdue Phi Gamma Delta 6-0. In the other League III game, New Dorms A subdued New Dorms C 12-0.

In League IV, Grad House A smashed the Student House 16-0, to retain their position as unbeaten league leaders. One day later, Delta Kappa Epsilon made a lone touchdown stand up for a 6-0 win over New Dorms B.
